

U.S. News & World Report Names Best Nursing Homes for 2016–17

Nine Altercare of Ohio Centers Are Acclaimed as the Best

Washington, D.C. – November 16, 2016 – U.S. News & World Report, a leading expert in the evaluation and rating of health care providers across the country, today identified the Best Nursing Homes for 2016-17. U.S. News evaluated more than 15,000 homes nationwide, across each state and in 100 major metropolitan areas. This year, just over 2,000 nursing homes earned the designation of a U.S. News Best Nursing Home.

"Several million Americans will spend at least some time in a nursing home this year, whether undergoing rehab after a hospital stay or as long-term residents," said Brian Kelly, editor and chief content officer of U.S. News. "Finding a nursing home that meets an individual's specific needs can be challenging for families. Our nursing home ratings are designed to help potential residents and their loved ones navigate this difficult process."

"This recognition is evidence of Altercare of Ohio's commitment to sustainable care and quality," said Lisa Canova, VP, Hospital and Community Relations at Altercare of Ohio, Inc. "It differentiates and distinguishes Altercare among providers and employers. Our superior clinical outcomes result in a successful pathway to healing and overall well-being."
